

My year abroad at Catholic University Eichstätt-Ingolstadt, Germany

Alek Tomanow

2008/09

Living for the first time in your life in a city with less than millions of people, to be exact 120,000 can be quite reinventing. This is what happened with me, while being in Germany, Ingolstadt. Every day I was discovering something, whether it is about myself, relationships in a small community or meeting the unknown person every day on the same street. I'm very glad I had the opportunity to experience Germany, studying and living in a small city like this.

Best regards,
Alek Tomanov (EBS London student who did a year abroad in Germany)
