Senior Systems Analyst and Developer
MIS Team

Thank you for your interest in joining Regent's University London.

Salary range: from £35,447 to £45,008 per annum plus a variable 7.5% market supplement (subject to annual review), and dependent on skills, experience and qualifications
Hours: 35 per week
Contract type: Permanent
Vacancy Reference: REG19/29/MIS

We are looking to recruit an experienced Systems Analyst and Developer.

You will join our growing MIS team based at our main campus in the heart of Regent's Park, where you will be supporting, developing and implementing enhancements to the systems under the remit of the MIS Team, which primarily involves the SITS student records system.

You will work independently and with colleagues, providing business and technical expertise to deliver functionality that is fit for purpose, and will be knowledgeable about the system and its potential, as well as being able to identify efficient and innovative solutions to business problems and new requirements.

We are looking for someone educated to degree level or equivalent, who has enthusiasm and perseverance, together with excellent communication, team building, analytical and interpersonal skills. You will already have experience of developing and supporting SITS, and can quickly pick up our local standards and understand the unique developments already in place. Knowledge of the business processes concerning Higher Education, experience of documenting the system and processes, and experience of working in a project environment will be advantageous.

This may suit experienced SITS developers looking to work within a focused business area, or current SITS support analysts currently providing support to one or more user departments who wish to improve their development skills and produce and implement new developments.
