BUSINESS & MANAGEMENT AT REGENT'S

Regent's offers a practical business education delivered in a cosmopolitan, multilingual and dynamic learning environment. Our practical and international approach to business and management will help you to navigate the global business world.

Our degrees draw on real-life business challenges by blending formal academic delivery with practical application.

Our academic staff have wide-ranging business experience and research interests. They combine strong academic credentials with current industry experience to give you excellent practical training.

Living and studying in one of the world's most cosmopolitan cities, you will get plenty of opportunities to engage with the wider aspects of life.

Our students develop:

- Professional acumen
- Creative confidence
- Intercultural intelligence
- Connectedness

International focus

Studying at Regent's gives you exclusive access to a highly cosmopolitan environment. There are more than 140 nationalities represented in our student body and our staff come from a wide variety of cultural backgrounds.

As part of the diverse University community, you will learn to appreciate alternative perspectives and build an international network of colleagues, friends and potential business partners.

Opportunities for study abroad

If you choose the BA (Hons) International Business (see page 14) you will have the opportunity to study abroad for up to a year at one of our partner institutions. This experience will help broaden your understanding of business in a global context and build your network of professional contacts.

Language and learning

To thrive in today's global environment, it is vital to have business level fluency in more than one language. All our Business & Management programmes offer options to study economically important languages such as Chinese and Russian.

Practical learning

Student participation is a core part of Business & Management at Regent's. You will apply your learning to problems, challenges and situations that are realistic reflections of the latest developments in global business.

Your degree will involve work experience and placements, ensuring you have plenty of practical experience and excellent connections by the time you graduate.

We encourage you to engage with the wider world of global business on campus and beyond through seminars, conferences, presentations, visits and guest speakers.

The Careers & Business Relations team can help you make the most of your potential and provide you with the practical support you need to make your career aspirations a reality.

Future opportunities

Regent's graduates enjoy a high rate of employment after completing their programmes.

We are very proud of our growing body of influential alumni, many of whom occupy high-profile positions throughout the world, particularly in the fields of banking and finance, marketing and communications, public relations and consultancy.

Entrepreneurship is a strong theme running through all our programmes, and increasingly our graduates are setting up their own companies, or joining their family business.

Regent's has given me a hands-on approach to finance, as well as access to prestigious industry events and experts, which has helped me develop as an academic, a leader and a financier.

GLOBAL MANAGEMENT WITH PATHWAYS

Successful management embraces a global perspective that connects people, digital technologies and economic opportunities. This programme allows you to tailor your education to reflect your personal and professional interests and aspirations.

- You will apply for one of the following specialist pathways:
- BA (Hons) Global Management (Enterprise & Innovation)
 - BA (Hons) Global Management (Finance)
 - BA (Hons) Global Management (Leadership & Management)
 - BA (Hons) Global Management (Marketing)

To succeed in a highly competitive global marketplace, graduates must combine broad business knowledge with analytical and creative skills.

You will study key business theories and develop critical awareness of different ideas, contexts and frameworks.

Building on this, you will learn to analyse and evaluate a range of management and business information or issues using well-accepted principles in a global context.

You will learn to use creative as well as strategic approaches, both in your coursework and your understanding of business issues.

The programme will prepare you for the challenges of a global management career where you will need a broad set of core business skills, as well as subject-specific expertise.

What will I study?

The first year offers a solid grounding in business and management subjects, giving you the necessary skills and understanding to progress to your chosen pathway specialisation in the second year.

In Years 2 and 3 you will continue to take a number of core modules, as well as gaining specialist knowledge through dedicated pathway modules.

You will also be able to choose a number of elective modules to personalise your studies. These include specialist electives for your pathway as well as electives from a University-wide selection to broaden your study and experience.

An elective pathway module
You will also choose another elective module from any across the BA (Hons) Global Management at Year 3 level.

Pathway Capstone

The Capstone is the final and summative module that allows you to apply all the knowledge and skills you have gained on your pathway to a practical project.

Extracurricular activities

There are plenty of opportunities for you to join in with extracurricular activities on and off campus. These include events with prominent guest speakers, presentations, conferences, competitions, University societies and Student Union membership. There is also the opportunity to become a student representative.

The more you take part in these activities and develop your unique experience at university, the more you will add to your personal development plan and ultimately, to your CV once you graduate.

Learning and assessment

The programme involves many conventional and innovative learning opportunities to give you an experience which is both rigorous academically, as well as interactive and engaging. You will have plenty of opportunities for practical, hands-on work to enhance your CV.

Learning techniques include 'flipped classrooms', workshops, small group research projects, individual tutorials and a range of 'outside-in' methods such as guest speakers, visits to key locations, exhibitions, events and co-curricular activity.

Throughout your studies, you will receive constructive feedback so you can develop and improve your work. Assessments are based on real business cases and situations.

Assessment methods may include reports, group or individual presentations, examinations, essays, timed tasks or exercises, case-study analysis, project work and events created and delivered by students.

■ BA (Hons) Global Management (Enterprise & Innovation)

How do you turn an idea into a viable business proposition? Where are the gaps in the marketplace? In today's world, business moves fast, and the ability to develop a new idea and take it to market quickly is crucial. This pathway helps you to develop and hone your entrepreneurial skills for future success.

The Enterprise & Innovation pathway will give you the entrepreneurial skills and strategic knowhow to enhance and grow new ventures in the ever-more saturated world of business.

Businesses rely on enterprise and innovation to overcome challenges and ensure sustained growth. It is this enterprising spirit that enables managers to turn their business into market leaders, shaping the next product or service innovation.

From how to launch a new venture, to the role of mobile technologies and digital organisations, you will have the opportunity to work on new start up ideas and put your entrepreneurial skills into practice.

What will I study?

In the first year, you will join students from all four pathways to study the same core modules.

In the second and third years, your studies will combine general and pathway-specific core modules, as well as a selection from a wide range of elective modules.

Some of these electives are pathway-specific, while others allow you to extend your experience in other areas, broadening your scope and making your degree unique and tailor-made.

■ BA (Hons) Global Management (Finance)

How do you make investing and financing decisions? How do the financial markets affect your business and the wider world? How do different financial systems around the world operate and interact? This comprehensive programme gives you the insights and knowledge you need to work confidently in the worlds of finance and accounting.

Finance plays a crucial role in any organisation, and is fundamental to management decision-making.

Financiers must have expertise both in gathering data and analysing information to aid business planning.

This pathway gives you a solid grounding in financial management to pursue a career in a wide range of industries within this influential field.

You will explore the financial parameters of business planning, performance and evaluation. You will also learn how financial intermediaries and institutions work, and study the structure of financial markets and how they function.

The pathway examines alternative approaches to finance other than current Western standards, and considers the impact of digital technologies on the financial industry.

What will I study?

In the first year, you will join students from all four pathways to study the same core modules.

In the second and third years, your studies will combine general and pathway-specific core modules, as well as a selection from a wide range of elective modules.

Future opportunities

The complex, fast-moving world of business management offers many exciting and diverse career opportunities. This top up programme will prepare you for a career as a leader, manager, strategist or entrepreneur in many different sectors across the world.

You may also wish to develop your knowledge further by undertaking a postgraduate degree in your specialist field. Regent's offer a range of postgraduate opportunities in areas such as international business, finance, digital marketing and analytics, marketing psychology, and oil and gas trade management. See our website for further details.

INTEGRATED BUSINESS FOUNDATION

The Integrated Business Foundation year will prepare you for entry to one of our Global Management degrees. It offers a thorough grounding in business subjects and will help you to develop the skills you need for study at degree level.

The following programmes offer an integrated foundation, as part of a four year degree:

- BA (Hons) Global Management (Enterprise & Innovation) with Integrated Foundation
- BA (Hons) Global Management (Leadership & Management) with Integrated Foundation
- BA (Hons) Global Management (Finance) with Integrated Foundation
- BA (Hons) Global Management (Marketing) with Integrated Foundation

The integrated business foundation year is designed for those who do not meet the requirements for direct entry to the three-year degree. Once you have satisfactorily completed the foundation year, you will be able to progress onto your chosen degree programme.

The foundation year is carefully designed to develop your business knowledge and skills to confidently progress to degree level study. In the second year, you will continue to develop these skills and gain a more in-depth understanding of business theory and practice. You will specialise in your chosen pathway in your third and final years.

What will I study?

You will take the following modules in the foundation year:

Business Management and Problem Solving
Entrepreneurial Simulation
Numeracy and Analysis for Business
Personal Impact
The World of Business
Working with Others

Some students may also be required to complete an Additional English module.

Learning and assessment

You will learn through a wide range of teaching methods including tutor-led lectures and workshops, group and individual presentations, simulations, case studies, reading and research leading to discussions, and workshop exercises.

Your progress will be assessed using a variety of methods, including reflective reviews, exercises focused on practical business problems, presentations and case studies. These become progressively more challenging and demanding throughout the foundation year, preparing you for the requirements of degree-level study.

Next steps

Your foundation year will give you the knowledge and skills you need to progress on to further study.

INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS

Today's business leaders are looking for graduates who have an international perspective, excellent linguistic skills and can work in multi-disciplinary, multicultural teams in many different locations.

You will apply for one of the following language options to specialise in:

- BA (Hons) International Business (Mandarin Chinese)
- BA (Hons) International Business (French)
- BA (Hons) International Business (German)
- BA (Hons) International Business (Italian)
- BA (Hons) International Business (Japanese)
- BA (Hons) International Business (Russian)
- BA (Hons) International Business (Spanish)

The BA (Hons) International Business offers an international and cross-cultural view of the business world, enabling you to develop the skills and approach to lead people in a complex and changing environment.

You will develop a broad base of business, management, intercultural and language skills which will equip you as an international leader, strategist and decision-maker of the future.

What will I study?

The programme is structured in three main parts:

In Years 1 and 2 you study at Regent's

In Year 3, you spend time at one or more of our partner institutions on two Study Periods Abroad (SPA). Alternatively, you may replace one of your SPAs with a Placement Learning Project (PLP).

In Year 4, you return to Regent's to complete your degree

You will take a range of core business modules, to build broad business knowledge, plus one or two language modules. Some students may be required to complete a module in English language study.

You will also choose from a range of elective modules specific to your programme, as well as Regent's elective modules.

International languages

Speaking more than one language is essential for working across international boundaries.

If your competence in a language is already at native-speaker level, you cannot choose to study that language.

You can either study a language as a complete beginner or choose a language that you already speak up to an intermediate level of competence. You can also choose to study a second foreign language as an elective.

After you complete your SPA year, we will assess your competence in your chosen language. In your final year, you will have the opportunity to continue studying the language in a number of ways:

The 'Language for Professionals' module prepares you for different labour markets and cultural ways of working. Its emphasis is to develop your linguistic ability in a business and professional context

The 'Language in the Global World' module will help you to further develop a high degree of fluency and communicative competence in your chosen language, through experiencing the social, academic and professional environments in countries where the language is spoken

Depending on your language level, you may be able to take one or both of these modules.

Regent's elective modules

In addition to your programme modules, you will be able to choose from a selection of Regent's elective modules to further diversify your learning. These may include:

Acting Studio
Applied Ethics
Art and Business
Career Management
Computer Applications
Contemporary African Politics and History
Energy Security and Economics
Global Human Trafficking
History of London
Interactive Media
Introducing Psychology
Introduction to Human Rights
Introduction to Philosophy
Introduction to Public Relations Strategy and Management
Introduction to Sociology
London's Literature
Management Information Systems
Media and Ethics
Politics of Development
Skills of Argumentation and Debate
Studies in Music History
The Psychology of Fashion
The World's Religions
Understanding Social Media

Please note, not all elective modules are available every term.

■ International Business

Study Period Abroad (SPA)

Studying abroad is an invaluable opportunity to immerse yourself in your chosen language and experience the culture of another country.

The SPA in Year 3 gives you the chance to experience a completely different academic environment, with different teaching styles and systems. The language you choose will dictate the countries where you could undertake your SPA.

We have partnerships with over 100 institutions around the world. The University's International Partnerships Office will support you before, during and after your SPA.

Placement Learning Project (PLP)

In Year 3, you have the choice to undertake a second SPA, or you can undertake a PLP. This is a 4-5 month module (16 weeks minimum) where you will have the chance to use your theoretical business knowledge in a real-life industry environment.

You will undertake an internship placement and will complete a number of academic submissions, supervised by your tutor.

Work placements/internships

Work placements are an integral part of the programme. You will take a minimum of two 8-week work placements before the final year of study. These form the basis of your reflection and investigation for your final-year Capstone module – Applied Business Project.

The University's Careers & Business Relations team will support you throughout your placement.

The programme moulds us into modern business leaders, equipped with the holistic and innovative approaches to successfully address the ever-changing challenges of our global economy. It doesn't just put you in a strong competitive position in the job market but actually teaches you to create your own jobs by seeking new opportunities and fostering relationships.

Nina Althammer, Austria

Extracurricular activities

There are plenty of opportunities for extracurricular activities on and off campus. These include visiting speakers, conferences, competitions, university societies and becoming a student representative.

The more you take part in activities and develop your unique experience at university, the more you will add to your personal development plan and ultimately, to your CV once you graduate.

Learning and assessment

The programme involves many conventional and innovative learning opportunities, to give you an experience which is both rigorous academically, as well as interactive and engaging.

Learning techniques include 'flipped classrooms', workshops, small group research projects, individual tutorials and a range of 'outside-in' methods such as guest speakers, visits to key locations, exhibitions, events and co-curricular activity, as well as experiential learning events both on and off campus.

Throughout your studies, you will receive timely and constructive feedback so you can develop and improve your work. Assessments are relevant and authentic, based on real-world cases and situations.

Assessment methods include reports, group or individual presentations, examinations, essays, timed tasks or exercises, case-study analysis, project work and events created and delivered by students.

Future opportunities

Your language skills, international outlook and work experience will make you one of the most employable graduates on the market.

LIBERAL STUDIES (BUSINESS & MANAGEMENT)

A liberal studies degree gives you the freedom to tailor your education to reflect both your personal and professional interests. The Business & Management major provides a broad-based framework to help you thrive in the fast-moving and highly competitive world of business.

The Liberal Studies with Majors programme is modelled on the traditional US liberal arts degree. Its flexible structure enables you to develop specialist knowledge in your major area of study, while also gaining a diverse education and essential life and employability skills.

Depending on your level of qualification on entry, there are two different programmes:

- BA (Hons) Liberal Studies (Business & Management) with Integrated Foundation (4 years)
- BA (Hons) Liberal Studies (Business & Management) (3 years)

BA (Hons) Liberal Studies (Business & Management) with Integrated Foundation

The 4-year degree with integrated foundation is designed for those who do not meet the requirements for direct entry to the three-year degree.

It will give you broad knowledge across a range of key topics, and the core skills to confidently progress onto the degree programme.

You will take the following modules:

Seminars 1 and 2
Business and Management
Humanities
International Relations
Media Studies
Psychology
Political Science
Quantitative Literacy
Scientific Understanding

BA (Hons) Liberal Studies (Business & Management)

The BA (Hons) Liberal Studies (Business & Management) programme focuses on core business subject areas – including accounting, marketing and operations – and core management skills.

You will develop your knowledge and understanding of the nature of business, the various components of an organisation and the management process.

It will also enable you to use practical tools and techniques to analyse business cases and management scenarios.

You will explore a wide range of aspects relevant in today's business world, and learn how to adapt and respond to challenging situations.

This programme will provide you with a balanced mix of theoretical knowledge and practical skills. You will learn, for example, how to manage and market a new organisational design, and at the same time reflect upon the ethical implications of the change management process.

This degree will develop you as a team player. It will give you the expert knowledge, global outlook and practical skills to work across competing markets and international boundaries.

In your second year, you will have the option to spend a term abroad at one of our partner universities.

HOW TO APPLY

At Regent's, we offer a high level of personal attention, and this begins from the moment you apply to study with us.

At Regent's, we are interested in your potential, as well as your prior achievements.

We review each application comprehensively and on its individual merit, considering all your skills, experience and attributes.

How to apply

Applying to study at Regent's University London is a straightforward process. We accept direct applications all year round. There is no application deadline and no application fee.

You can apply directly to us through our website at regents.ac.uk/apply

You can also apply through UCAS (using the code R18) or via Common Application.

You can expect to receive a response regarding your application within 10 working days from when we receive your completed application and supporting documents.

If you still have to finish your education, we will issue a conditional offer. If you have met all the conditions, we will send you an unconditional offer.

Our independent status means that even if you have already made five choices via the UCAS system, you can still make a sixth application by applying directly to us.

Visa requirements

Students who require a Tier 4 (General) visa to study in the UK may be required to meet specific grade requirements and conditions of study as stipulated by UK Visas and Immigration. Please check their website for current information:

gov.uk/tier-4-general-visa

Transfer of credits

If you have already participated in education at degree level, you may be able to transfer some of your credits towards one of our degree programmes. Please contact us for further information.

English language requirements

All our programmes are taught in English, and we require proof of your English language proficiency. We will review the English language qualifications you submit as part of your application, and contact you if we need to know anything else.

Student visas

If you need to apply for an international student visa to study in the UK, then we recommend that you accept your Unconditional offer as soon as possible by paying your Advanced Tuition Fee Deposit. Once we receive your acceptance we will issue the relevant documentation. Please note it is your responsibility to arrange the appropriate visa. To find out if you need a visa to study in the UK, please consult the UK Visas and Immigration website: gov.uk/visas-immigration

Funding

Regent's University London is an independent, not-for-profit institution. Our students pay the same fees, regardless of nationality, enabling us to provide the highest level of service and education.

Please visit the website for information on students loans, scholarships and bursaries.

I chose to study at Regent's because of its international perspective. The students are all so international and studying in London has really helped me to understand cultural diversity.
