Induction and Enrolment Arrangements

Induction Schedules and Online Enrolment

All new students will have an induction. The details for your induction are given to you before you arrive.

All new and continuing students will need to enrol online.

The Admissions department notifies all new students about arrangements for enrolment and induction.

The Registry notifies all continuing students about arrangements for re-enrolment.

Documents for Admission

It is important that all new students who enrol onto programmes at the University submit all required documentation requested to complete their files. New students must respond to all requests from the Admissions department, with regard to entry documents to the University. Not doing so will impede your enrolment to the programme and your start to study.

As part of the University's UKVI Tier 4 Sponsor Licence, Regent's is required to view and maintain copies of all international students' current passport and visa, together with original qualification documents on which admission was granted. These checks are part of the enrolment process on arrival, and Regent's cannot permit an international student to enrol without undertaking this process.

Accessing Student Timetables

Timetables are available to you at the start of the term, prior to classes commencing. Students shall be given guidance by Registry on how and when to access their timetable via eVision, an online portal.

For queries about your timetable, please email The Hub in the first instance:

hub@regents.ac.uk.

Support for Students with Disabilities

The University is committed to developing an environment in which students are given the opportunity to demonstrate and realise their full potential. You are encouraged to disclose any disability on application or as soon as possible thereafter so any agreed adjustments can be put in place for you. A condition is considered a disability if it meets the Equality Act's (2010) definition. If you have not disclosed on application, please contact the Disability Officer on arrival at the University: tel: +44 (0) 20 7487 7863 or email: disability@regents.ac.uk. Please be aware that non-disclosure of a disability may affect the level of support that the University may be able to provide.

General Information

The Student Disability Policy is on the University website's Disability Information pages, this can also be accessed by scanning the QR code below:

Additional information is on the Intranet's Disability Information pages. The University will ensure:

- That your requirements are assessed on an individual basis.
- That reasonable adjustments are provided to you, within the resources available.
- Unless there is a serious risk or major concern, that information regarding your disability is treated in a confidential manner, according to the University's confidential policy.

Student Support Agreement

Where possible, support should be agreed within three weeks of classes starting. Details of deadlines for confirmation of special examination requirements are in each module area on Blackboard. If you have specific needs, contact the Disability Officer in order to complete a Student Support Agreement (SSA). You will need to bring appropriate supporting documentation to the meeting. Once you have an SSA, it is your responsibility to send it to relevant staff each term, including your lecturers.

Supporting Documentation

If you need an SSA you must provide up-to-date written evidence of your disability. This could be, for example, an educational psychologist's reports or, in some cases, a doctor's letter. Documentation must give enough detail to enable us to assess your needs. It should make clear that the condition may be considered a 'disability' under UK law. Documentation should be on letter headed paper, signed by an appropriate professional. It should clearly state diagnosis and any resulting recommendations for academic study at university level. Documentation should be in English, or an authorised translation provided.

Examples of Adjustments/Accommodations:

- Additional time in written tests and examinations (usually 25%);
- Use of a University computer in written tests and examinations;
- Separate room provided to accommodate additional time in tests and examinations;
- Flagging examination scripts written without disclosing your identity, enabling academic staff to take dyslexia into consideration when marking the script;
- When essential, occasional extensions for individual written coursework (if agreed by the lecturer in advance);
- Special allowance for a disability-related class absence, if the absence limit is exceeded (in agreement with the Head of School/Head of Programme);
- Facility to audio record lectures (with the lecturer's advance permission, subject to data protection requirements); and
- Extended loans in the Library.

In the case of non-standard adjustments, the Head of Programme/Head of School may be consulted, to ensure that academic rigour is maintained. If an alternative form of assessment is required, early notification is essential.

Examples of the Support Systems Currently Available:

- If you have a hearing impairment: Hearing loops are installed in the Tate Library, several lecture rooms and can be made available in other rooms on request.
- If you have a visual disability: A Smartview video magnifier facilitates skimming through books. Examination papers can be made available in large print. When needed, a scribe/reader can be organised for exams.
- If you have specific learning difficulties: Assistive programs are available on University computers. Read & Write provides predictive text features, as well as proof reading features, and text-to-speech. Inspiration enables mind-mapping, helpful for planning assignments. The Disability Officer can refer you to the University Specific Learning Difficulty Tutor for one to one support, if needed.

Funding

UK students, and those with 'settled status', may be entitled to apply for Disabled Students' Allowance. You are advised to check course eligibility before applying: information is available on the website. You are responsible for providing any supporting documentation needed for your application. The Disability Officer can assist you with your application.

Free Screening

If you suspect that you may have a specific learning difficulty, such as dyslexia, dyspraxia or ADHD, the University provides a free screening service. Screening should give you an indication of whether it is worthwhile seeking a full diagnostic assessment. Details are on the intranet or contact disability@regents.ac.uk to arrange an appointment.

Emergency Evacuation for Students with a Physical Disability

If you may need some extra help evacuating a University building in an emergency, let the Disability Officer know. You will be put in touch with the Fire Officer so that a Personal Emergency Evacuation Plan can be drawn up.

Disability Services Committee

This meets three times a year and a student representative attends.

Disabled Parking: Blue Badge holders

Full details are available via the University website: Disabled Parking Info

Upon disclosure of this to the Student Support team, and subsequent to providing relevant documentation, you will be provided with a Student Support Agreement which will provide you with reasonable adjustments to help support you with your studies.

Careers and Entrepreneurship Support

Situated in the Hive collaborative workspace in Tuke building, this part of the Student Services team offers Matrix accredited careers and enterprise education, information, advice and guidance.

Consultations

All students will benefit from an initial consultation with a careers advisor in their first weeks on campus. Based on their individual interests, students will, guided by their advisor, develop knowledge and networks in their sectors and roles of interest, e.g. fashion, finance, professional services, psychotherapy, or starting up a business. Unlimited appointments are available to current students and alumni.

Help with applications

Those looking for internships, placements, or graduate positions will be signposted to workshops which will help them succeed at every stage of the selection process including CV and cover letter writing, interview (including video interviews) and assessment centre preparation, networking, LinkedIn and numerical and verbal reasoning. They have access to the vacancies shared by our business relations team on the online StudentHub, as well as multiple other resources, and they will be trained to run application campaigns in the UK and other major economies. The team also handles all placement related statutory health and safety checks and risk assessments for programmes with a compulsory placement.

Start-up advice

Those looking to start their own business will be invited to workshops to cover the practicalities of starting up in the UK and beyond. Events, such as entrepreneurship week, the Alumni Dragons Den, and the annual London Venture Crawl, round off this comprehensive offer. The Hive also offers finalists and alumni a collaborative workspace and community, which includes start-up advice and masterclasses, student consultancy services, and a bookable hot desk space – and upon graduation, support with a graduate start-up visa.

Consultancy projects

Those looking to complete a consultancy project as their capstone, will receive support in developing practical consultancy skills, as well as help with sourcing suitable projects.

Events and masterclasses

Each semester a number of masterclasses (held by industry specialists), seminars, networking events and fairs will be organised on campus. They offer an invaluable opportunity to find out about employment prospects in different industries and business sectors and to develop a professional network. At our hiring breakfasts, employers who currently seek students via the StudentHub vacancy board (Internships or graduate jobs) get introduced to (and given the opportunity to interview onsite) students right away.

Mentoring

Final year and postgraduate students are given the opportunity to be paired with a mentor throughout the duration of their course, as part of our long-running joint alumni/careers mentoring scheme. Students will be matched (wherever possible) with mentors whose careers or interests overlap with theirs, but experience has shown that diverse pairings often offer the best results.

In addition to regular face-to-face contact with our expert staff, the team in the Hive offers a wide range of online resources including Skype appointments to help students in their job search. These include advice sheets, videos and self-assessment tools. All this is open 24/7/365 on StudentHub to current students and alumni.

Student Immigration Advice

The Student Immigration Advice Service provides free and confidential advice and information on UK immigration-related matters.

Please do not hesitate to email us should you need student immigration advice – visas@regents.ac.uk

If you would like to book an appointment to seek advice from us in person, please contact The Hub – thehub@regents.ac.uk

Further information about our services can be found here: <https://www.regents.ac.uk/study/international-students/visa-advice-and-guidance>.

Student Immigration Compliance

It is your responsibility to ensure you have a valid visa that permits study.

Failure to hold a valid visa that permits study throughout your period of study will result in withdrawal from your studies at Regent's University.

If during your studies your immigration status changes, you must inform the Student Immigration Compliance team immediately – visacompliance@regents.ac.uk. Original evidence of new immigration permission will need to be seen in order to update your student record.

Tier 4 (Student)

If you are on a Tier 4 (Student) visa, you must also understand and comply with the responsibilities of your student visa: https://www.regents.ac.uk/sites/default/files/2018-12/tier-4-compliance-reminder\_july-2018.pdf

Remember that it is your own responsibility to check whether you need a visa, or visa extension, and if so, to ensure that you have the correct type. Rules and regulations in this area have become increasingly strict, and change from time to time, under the Points Based System – Tier 4, and it is in your own interest to have everything in order.

Further Information

UK immigration rules and regulations are subject to change, often at short notice. It is your responsibility to check the visa requirements.

Tuition Fees

Tuition fee invoices are generated on the semester/term basis in the process of online enrolment on e-vision. New students will initially receive a pro-forma invoice from Admissions as part of their application process.

Once enrolled online, students will be able to view their invoice and payments in the 'My Finance' section of E:vision.

All tuition fees are issued on a semester/term basis. Fees are due two weeks prior to the start of classes.

Invoices are issued to students, and it's their responsibility to make their invoices available to parents or sponsors.

Due Dates

Full payment of the term's tuition fees is due at least two weeks prior to the beginning of the term, unless the University has made an alternative agreement. Failure to pay fees at least two weeks prior to the start of term may mean that payment is not allocated to your account by the start of the term. The University has a range of sanctions that will be imposed in the event that the fees due are not paid by the due date, which may include withdrawal of campus and IT services including prohibiting entry to the campus. Debt may also be passed to an external debt collection and interest may be charged.

Late payment is not sufficient grounds to have absences removed and University services may be withdrawn due to non-payment.

Payment plans are available for degree-seeking programmes. Payments are made by recurring card payments in three instalments. This can be arranged through the online enrolment process. You will need a debit or credit card to use this facility, for further information see regents.ac.uk/pay online

Only students with no current balance will be considered for a payment plan. If you require a payment plan for the term's tuition fees, please contact finance@regents.ac.uk

Responsibility for Paying Fees

It is your responsibility to ensure that the fees (as stated in any fee document or other document supplied to you and as reviewed and revised each academic year) and all other fees and expenses relating to the programme of study some of which may be subject to a separate agreement are paid in accordance with the due dates for each course.

Methods of Payment

Withdrawal of campus and IT services including prohibiting entry to the campus where outstanding fees have not been paid are sanctions that will be enforced for non-payment. Debt may also be passed to an external debt collection agency for recovery and interest may be charged.

Student Disciplinary Proceedings

As an institution of higher education, Regent's University London's disciplinary policy and procedures are designed with the aim of providing guidance and good practice in areas of student behaviour as well as for invoking fair and appropriate sanctions in the case of non-academic misconduct. Through the Student Disciplinary Policy, every effort is made to provide clear information to staff and students on how allegations of misconduct are addressed and to ensure that these are addressed in a way that is transparent and fair.

The University recognises that inappropriate behaviour may result from the student's inability to solve a problem or manage a situation appropriately. The University, through its Student Support officers, offers guidance, including referrals for counselling, to those students who may be in this situation. Where possible, such issues are addressed in the first instance, at a local level. If this is not possible, issues will be drawn to the attention of the Head of Student Services or a nominee. Ultimately, the student must accept responsibility for his / her behaviour and the consequences that result. The fundamental hope is that the student can learn and grow from the incident and sanctions imposed in response to that behaviour, and that he or she can make the necessary changes in his / her behaviour to become a constructive member of the educational community.

Attendance Policy

The University has a student attendance policy which encourages academic responsibility and seriousness on your part, and you are expected to attend all classes.

It is important that students are aware that across all University programmes, student absences in classes are recorded and monitored on the principle that each student is required to attend a minimum 75% of his or her classes.

Students should refer to section C4.6 of the Academic Regulations 2019-20 for the full version of the attendance regulations. Where a programme differs to a University policy, students should refer to their Programme Handbook, available on Blackboard.

Crime prevention on the University grounds is not just the responsibility of Regent's; it is a shared responsibility between the individual and Regent's. Students and staff must accept responsibility for helping the University maintain a safe and secure environment and report any incidents in a timely manner.

Arrangements for student feedback and how the University uses it

It is expected that students will give informal feedback on an ongoing basis as and when appropriate, perhaps via your Tutor, Head of Programme, or the Student Union office.

Student feedback questionnaire systems are in place to provide us with your feedback concerning modules and programmes. Institutional surveys are conducted periodically. Alternatively you can feedback comments through your student representative to the appropriate committees / meetings.

Student Representation on Committees

The student representation system is an important part of the learning experience at Regent's University London.

Council Presidents are part of the Student Union Executive Team and contribute in the strategic and operational matters, and policy development.

Student representatives serve as key representatives for their programme and year. They provide feedback on their courses, and contribute to the development of learning and teaching in their subject area.

It is helpful if students organise themselves as soon as possible each term to ensure that they are represented appropriately. Acting as a 'student representative' requires a significant commitment of effort and time but is very rewarding.

The term of office for student representation is one academic year.

Getting Involved with Student Representation

To become a Council President you can see the vacancies available and the application process on the Student Union webpage: <https://www.su.regents.ac.uk/join-the-team>

To become a Student Representative, during induction or at the beginning of the term, you will have the opportunity to register your interest to become a Student Rep at the Student Hub. The student representatives are to be elected from within their programmes of study.
