

Alumni Code of Conduct

The mission of Regent's University London is to develop tomorrow's global leaders and as a university we are hugely proud of what our alumni go on to achieve throughout their lifetimes. We aim to foster this outstanding network by bringing Regent's graduates together and celebrating the Regent's connection globally.

Upholding good conduct is essential in protecting the wellbeing of our alumni, staff and students as well as the Regent's brand. The principles of this code of conduct are applicable in any circumstance in which alumni have been granted access: to campus, channels or any events/activity relating to Regent's University London (including global events) by virtue of their status as a member of the Regent's community. This also applies when acting as a representative of the University and when using social media and IT networks.

We ask that all Regent's alumni read and abide by the alumni code of conduct.
